

General guidelines for poster presentations at ISVLSI 2011

Format: The poster size should not exceed 3' x 4' (vertical). Apart from the size, there are no specifications on the general format of the posters. Presenters may consider using appropriate layout and design (e.g. font size and type or use of illustrations and graphical information) as long as they are visually-friendly for the viewers. It may be one big poster, or an arrangement of at most 12 A4 size landscape mode sheets.

Content: The poster should concisely encapsulate and present the overall contents of completed or ongoing research. Details and organization of the content may vary from one study to another but it is recommended that it should consist of the following main sections: title, presenter's name(s) and affiliation, introduction, methods, results, discussion, conclusion and key references (it is recommended that not more than 3 selected references are shown). Result and discussion parts might be merged together and conclusion might be omitted.
